MINISTER of Women and Child Welfare and Tribal Welfare, Gummadi Sandhya Rani, emphasised the importance of skills in securing employment during the inauguration of a mega job mela at Saluru Government Degree College on Sunday.

"Skills are essential to secure a job. Where there is skill, there will be employment," she asserted.

The event, organised by the AP Skill Development Corporation in collaboration with 25 companies, offered 970 job opportunities with competitive salary packages. A large number of youths from across the district participated in the mela.

The Minister highlighted the state government's commitment, under Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu's leadership, to creating 25 lakh jobs across all sectors within five years. She noted the government's efforts to ensure access to quality education for all youths, enabling them to work globally. As part of these efforts, the government introduced the Dokka Seethamma Mid-Day Meal (MDM) Programme for junior college students to improve their health, enrolment, and focus on studies. Additionally, web-based classes in collaboration with IIT Madras are being provided to enhance students' skills.

Sandhya Rani urged youths to focus on skill development in their areas of interest, which she said would open doors to lucrative opportunities. She also appealed to them to avoid drug addiction, emphasising its detrimental effects on personal and family life. "The world is full of opportunities, and the youth must tap into them to pave a path for a bright future," she exhorted.

The event was attended by District Skill Development Officer Sai Krishna Chaitanya, Trainer M Kanchi Babu, and local officials.
